House UncertainFlood of Bills Forecast in Lower Chamber

WASHINGTON, April 24.—President Coolidge today conferred with Republican leaders of the House and Senate on the legislative program of Congress and on the probability of adjournment of this body at an early date, Senator Lodge reported to the President that the Senate calendar will be so far cleared of legislation which can be enacted at this session that the Senate can adjourn the first week in June.

The House members, while telling the President that the House will dispose of all constructive legislation on the calendar within ten days or two weeks, cannot, as yet, proceed with the House calendar, as the House cannot be foretold in advance what legislative proposals may be introduced upon the floor.

Ordinarily the House could also adjourn early in June, but under existing conditions in the House, it is already certain that the House will not adjourn until after the first week in June.

The tax measure will be kept before the Senate as unfinished business until passed, which will take not less than two weeks. It is already certain that the House will insist on its own tax bills carrying a maximum surtax of 37 1/2 per cent against 35 per cent proposed in the Senate measure, and the main conflict in conference will be over this provision.

HOUSE IS JAMMED

With the passage of both these measures and the appropriation bills and some bill for agricultural relief, the Senate leaders think the Senate will be ready to adjourn before the national convention.

The House, on the other hand, has five appropriation bills to enact, most of which are uncompleted, and the House is unable to move forward.

OPEN FIGHT FOR TAX REDUCTION

The measure as reported by the Finance Committee and author of the substitute income tax schedule advanced by the Democrats, supported the contention of Senator Jones. The Democrats substitute income schedule calls for a maximum surtax of 40 per cent applicable to incomes of $100,000 and over.

Opening the debate, Chairman Smoot warned against further authorization by Congress of special appropriations, "lest tax reduction be impossible."

The measure as reported by the Finance Committee, different tax reduction justifiable in view of the estimated surplus. Bills calling for the expenditure of $15,498,176, he pointed out, are pending before Congress, in addition to the soldier bonus measure approved by both houses, for which the outlay next year has been estimated at $125,000,000.

WIPE OUT SURPLUS

"Therefore," Mr. Smoot said, "the expenditure of any considerable portion of this amount may wipe out the surplus and make tax reduction impossible."

Turning to the income tax schedule about which the main controversy on the floor is being conducted, the chairman declared the reductions in surtaxes recommended by Secretary Mellon, "will stimulate business and encourage investments in productive enterprises and in the long run increase the revenues from the taxes on the larger incomes."

In placing the Mellon income rates in the bill, Finance Committee Republicans rejected the Longworth compromise schedule adopted by a vote of Republicans in the House. This schedule called for smaller reductions of the surtaxes than the Mellon plan and greater cuts in the normal rates.

In recommending the reduction of the surtax rate, Mr. Smoot declared the committee followed the advice of practically every authority, irrespective of party affiliation, who has studied the question.

Their reduction, he continued, "has been recommended by President Wilson, Harding and Coolidge. The recommendations of the last three Secretaries of the Treasury—Secretary Glass, Secretary Houston and Secretary Mellon—have been to the same effect with respect to the high surtaxes."

Discussing other provisions of the bill, Mr. Smoot directed attention particularly to the corporate and estate taxes. The committee measure, he asserted, "is designed to interfere as little as possible with the business progress and the development of the country."

The increase in the flat corporate tax from 12 1/2 to 14 per cent, coupled with the elimination of the special capital tax, he said, will apportion the tax burden more equitably among the different corporations by shifting it to a certain extent from those corporations earning a small return on their capital, such as public utility corporations, to those earning a large return upon their capital.

The change also would relieve corporations of a large part of the burden of preparing two entirely different returns upon their earnings and profits, one for the Treasury Department in auditing returns.

PROPOSAL STIPULING

Referring to the amendment of Senator Brookhart, Republican of Iowa, proposing restoration of the excess profits tax, Mr. Smoot declared this tax had been found "arbitrary and inequitable in its application as well as stifling to business expansion in its burden."

He also denounced suggestions for imposition of a tax on undistributed profits.

"Sound business finance," he said, "requires the retention by corporations of a large part of their earnings in order to take care of the business expansion of the country and at the same time protect the company against future losses. Sound policy dictates that pressure should be put upon corporations to retain a portion of their earnings and profits rather than to force them through undue taxation to distribute their entire profits."

The committee rejected the House provision to increase the estate tax rate from a maximum of 25 to 40 per cent. Mr. Smoot said "because a higher rate cannot be collected without affecting adversely the revenues of the Federal government and of the States, as well as the value of property."

JOHNSON SOON
MAY QUIT RACE

When approached on the subject here today, "I cannot make any statement on the subject now," Mr. Ickes said. "That will have to come from Senator Johnson himself. I understand that Mr. Johnson's health is poor, but I cannot discuss it."

Senator Johnson himself could not be reached.

If Johnson or his managers ever had any hope that he really would be a Presidential candidate, the New Jersey contest must have disillusioned them all. So far as returns from the race, the State are in Coillidge has Johnson beaten ten to one. It was a slaughter, a massacre, not a contest.

Four years ago New Jersey came to the Republican convention with seven delegates voting for Johnson. Wood and eleven for Hiram Johnson. In a whirlwind campaign the Californian had chased all other candidates out of the State and almost upset the well-planned Wood organization. For four ballots Johnson held his full strength; four more he kept ten delegates in line and some were still voting for him at the finish.

CAUSES FOR DEFEATS

All over the country it has been the same. Indiana, which holds its primaries next week, will go solidly for President Coolidge.

"Square Deal" is Story

WASHINGTON, April 24.—Two detailed stories bearing on the Montana charges against Senator Wheeler were heard today by the special Senate committee appointed to investigate his indictment.

One of the witnesses, William G. Feely, a Washington lawyer, testified that the Senator "had absolutely nothing" to do with the Campbell land cases which Feely's firm handled before the Interior Department and in which Mr. Wheeler is charged with accepting a fee from Gordon Campbell, a Montana oil operator.

SPY TESTIFIES

The other, William Spry, former Governor of Utah, and now Commissioner of the general land office, told the committee that Wheeler had been brought to his office in 1923 by Solicitor Booth of the Interior Department; that the Campbell land permits had been mentioned in the conversation but that the Senator had only asked for a "square deal" for Campbell.

When Chairman Borah asked the land commissioner directly whether Senator Wheeler had "interested himself in the Campbell controversy, or any other controversy, before the Interior Department" the witness replied:

"I do not remember any controversy that Senator Wheeler has been interested in."

FEELY DENIES AID

Feely testified he was introduced to Campbell by Booth in March, 1923, and in the solicitor's presence entered into a verbal contract with the Montana oil operator to represent him before the Interior Department in oil land prospecting permit matters.

"What, if anything, did Mr. Wheeler have to do with assisting you or your firm in handling the permits?" Senator Borah asked, after taking up the permits mentioned in the Wheeler indictment to explain each case.

"Absolutely nothing," Feely replied.

CHICAGO, April 24.—Burning milk as fuel in a locomotive of the Rock Island Railroad made a two-hour trip today drawing five cars with 200 passengers. The milk-fed train went from Englewood to Beverly Hills and back, with 148 children passengers from Chicago Home for Friendless Children and the Chicago Orphan Asylum cheered the retreating telegraph poles.

"Milk in the firebox is a new one," said a railroad employee as Health Commissioner Bundesen, who gave the party, stepped into the cab to open the throttle officially. Dr. Bundesen's idea was to dramatize the fact that milk locomotive, is also fuel for the human body, containing energy which the body gets from it as much as the locomotive does.

Damaged powdered milk was thickened with water, hardened and broken into lumps for the fuel.

BUFAFO, April 24.—Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, honorary president of the National League of Women Voters, presenting a review of woman's progress to the executive council of the league, today said woman suffrage is spreading throughout the civilized world. "Rock-ribbed Spain has just franchised its women," Mrs. Catt said. "The Mohammedans and the Turks have extended the franchise to the women of Constantinople. Hindu women are voting; in fact wherever there is real democracy in government it must include a provision for voting by women."

CHICAGO, April 24.—A 24-year-old woman lawyer, angered at the refusal of a man with whom she was infatuated, to divorce his wife and marry her, today visited the man's home in Palos Park, a suburb, shot and killed a caretaker, fired several shots at Chicago in an automobile, accounted for by a man believed to be a husband from whom she was separated, to continue her hunt.

Wanda Elaine Stopa, the girl, who came to this country a poor emigrant and in a few years was graduated from a law school and served for a time as Assistant United States District Attorney, said the man, who was being hunted throughout the city tonight.

Y. Kenley Smith, wealthy advertising man, was under guard while questioned at the State's Attorney's office to prevent an attempt by the woman on his life. Smith, who was being hunted by the police, was shot in the back by Stopa, who fired at Mrs. Smith in bed, was near a nervous collapse.

Henry Manning, 55 years of age, caretaker, at the Smith home, was the girl's victim.

Commissioner Iles and Mayor Ulrich Wiesendanger appeared at the meeting accompanied by a woman dressed in blue, a handmaiden, who sat with them on the platform. The commissioner and the Mayor argued Crestwood didn't need a patrolman on fixed post.

"Why," continued the commissioner, warning to his theme, "this woman here is no woman at all. She's a policeman. The lady stood up and took off her wig, disclosing the features of Patrolman Robert Bush. He has been walking through the streets of Crestwood at night for a month disguised so and not a soul has bothered him. Crestwood needs no policeman."

There was something like a snort in the audience.

"We want no Keystone comedy here," somebody shouted. Then more than 100 of the 150 in the audience got up to depart, indignant.

"This is an insult to one's intelligence," shouted another. The persons who kept their seats reached for their hats.

Mayor Wiesendanger, who was elected only last fall, looked perturbed.

"Well, just what is it you want?" "Well," said Mayor Wiesendanger, smiling winningly, "I guess that can be fixed. You shall have one—right away."

"Do you want a policeman on fixed post?" "Yes!" came the chorus.

NEW YORK, April 24.—Yonkers intellectuals feel better. They can distinguish, they say, hokum from reality, a Keystone cop from a regular cop; and because they have a regular cop now in Crestwood they feel better.

But the other night they weren't feeling good. They'd met—150 residents of Crestwood and Colonial Heights in the schoolhouse at Crestwood—to protest because Public Safety Commissioner Alfred H. Iles had removed the policeman in Crestwood from his fixed post and because a few days later it had taken twenty minutes to get a patrolman after C. A. W. BRITAIN'S ENVOY PRAISES PRESS

Brings Message from Premier to Publishers

Samuel P. Thomason New Association Head

Convention Protests Second Class Mail Rates

NEW YORK, April 24.—The American press is an important instrument in the development of mutual understanding between the American and British peoples and it has fulfilled this mission with fairness, friendliness and thoroughness, Prime Minister MacDonald of Great Britain tonight told the American Newspaper Publishers' Association through Sir Esmé Howard, the British Ambassador, who addressed the annual dinner.

Mr. MacDonald, in a message to the association incorporated in Sir Esmé's address, declared he liked to feel that, in saluting the American press, he was saluting a powerful colleague in the work of maintaining and strengthening a real understanding between the two peoples.

"The more I study the present plight of Europe," said the Prime Minister's message, "the more I feel that in the long run the moral and material future of humanity must depend to no small extent upon a cordial friendship and a generosity of sentiment between our two nations."

FRIENDLY RELATIONS
The excellent relations between Britain and America, Sir Esmé said, were "owing to the efforts of the great men who have gone before us—Lincoln, and Lyons, and Hay, Roosevelt, Root and Brice and Gray and Page, to mention only a few."

"If we carry on their policy of friendship and good understanding, and there is not one here present but can help so doing," he continued, "we may well hope to establish an example of international relations which will go far to establish that general good will and understanding and confidence on which alone the peace of the world can rest."

Samuel P. Thomason of the Chicago Tribune was elected president of the publishers' association at the business session. Other officers elected were:

Vice-president, John Stewart Bryan of the Richmond (Va.) News Leader; secretary, George M. Rogers of the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

MOTHERS FIND BABIES DEAD

Each Shocked on Early Morning Visit to Bedside; Causes of Tragedies Unexplained

BROOKLYN, April 24.—When two mothers in the Wallabout section called their young children, in one case to tell her little daughter that hot buns were waiting on the kitchen table, they met with no responses. The children had died during the night, in both cases of causes still unexplained.

Mrs. Ellen Adams, 104 Lynch street, found her 3-year-old daughter, Cristina, cold and lifeless when she sought to surprise her with the hot buns specially baked. Dr. Ellen of Beth Moses Hospital was once called. He could do nothing, and was at a loss to find the cause of the young girl's death, as the child, according to her mother, had been in apparently perfect health the night before.

Likewise, Mrs. Helen Rupp, 320 Mulder street, was shocked when she discovered her little son, James 3 months of age, had died during the night. The frantic mother, who said she had left the baby for but two hours, called Patrolman Louis Peterson of the Stagg-street station. When Ambulance Surgeon Burke of St. Catherine's Hospital arrived he pronounced the death due to unknown causes. An autopsy will be performed.

Dealer, treasurer, Howard Davis of the New York Herald-Tribune.

DIRECTORS CHOSEN
The following directors were chosen:

Frank G. Bell of the Savannah News; Harry Chandler of the Los Angeles Times; Charles H. Taylor of the Boston Globe; E. R. Williams of the Pittsburgh Press; and Paul Patterson of the Baltimore Sun.

The convention adopted a resolution declaring that the present postal rates for the transmission of second-class mail were "burdensome and oppressive."

The delegates were informed by the bureau of advertising that national newspaper advertising totaled 300,000,000 lines in 1923, an increase of 400 per cent in the last ten years.

MAINE FISH GLADDENING SPORTSMEN

Salmon Season is on With Prices Being Taken Out of Noted Bangor Pool

BANGOR, April 24.—Bangor's salmon season is on, with a few more boats at the famous salmon pool every day. Some of the finest prices ever taken here have been landed, including the biggest fish caught here in recent years, one weighing 20 1/2 pounds. Years ago it was common for fishermen to land 40-pound salmon at the Bangor pool, but now a 30-pounder is considered large, and a 20-pounder is almost unheard of.

The honor of catching the first salmon, which is generally bought by local politicians and sent to the President at Washington, fell this year to J. Edward Canning and his son, Thomas Canning. The first fish weighed 18 1/2 pounds. Bangor is probably the only city in the United States that can boast that 30-pound salmon can be caught within a mile from city hall.

The Bangor salmon pool, located at the base of the dam which furnishes power for the municipal electric light plant and water, has yielded millions of fish in the last 100 years, and gives no sign of playing out. An elaborate fishway gives the fish a chance to go over the dam at this point.

MESA ORATOR VICTOR IN CENTRAL ARIZONA

EARL MERRILL TO COMPETE FOR STATE HONORS AT PHOENIX

MESA (Ariz.) April 24.—Earl Merrill of Mesa Union High School, is winner in the national oratorical contest for the Central Arizona divisions, which he will represent in the State contest at Phoenix, May 10. Ray Coffman of the Chandler High School was chosen as alternate. The Scottsdale High School was represented by Robert G. Adams. Phoenix High by John Girard. St. Mary's High by Miss Mary Kelly and Gilbert High by James Aaron. The judges were the magistrates of the three divisions of the Maricopa County Superior Court, P. C. Strickmeyer, D. W. Winde and M. T. Phelps.

Presiding at the meeting was Charles Sander, general manager of the Arizona Republican, the newspaper which is sponsoring the contest in Arizona. It will pay the expenses of the six contestants to Phoenix and of the State champion to Los Angeles, with offer of an additional $100 in the event the Arizona contestant wins the Pacific Coast competition.

CANAL ZONE TREATY EXTENSION PLANNED

WASHINGTON, April 24.—Negotiations to continue the Taft Panama Canal agreement in effect until June 1 have been opened between the Washington and Panama governments.

The agreement was to expire May 1, by arrangement entered by the two governments when they began negotiations looking toward the construction of a treaty to supplant it. At that time it was thought a treaty could be drafted, ratified and put into effect by May 1 but that was found impossible.

State Department officials now hope by June 1 to have the treaty in final form. Like the Taft agreement it will regulate relations between the two countries in regard to the Canal Zone.

CHICAGO, April 24.—Although the State announced itself ready for trial in the case of W. E. D. OIL FIELD IN SUMATRA IS FIRE-SWEPT

Royal Dutch Company's Pangkalan Soes Area Completely Destroyed

THE HAGUE, April 24.—The Royal Dutch office here received full details in today's Java mail of a great fire which practically destroyed one of the richest fields belonging to the Royal Dutch system on March 21.

The oil field at Pangkalan Soes on the island of Sumatra has ceased producing since the disastrous fire. The mail accounts give full credit for the salvation of the lives of hundreds of men in the great fields to two American employees, whose names are not mentioned, who covered one of the blazing wells.

Flames more than 140 feet high spouted from the tubes of the various wells in the field. The tanks were saved from disaster, but the production of the field is entirely stopped.

GOMPER'S SCORES ANTITRUST LAWS

DEVELOPMENT OF INDUSTRY OBSTRUCTED, DECLARES LABOR CHIEFTAIN

NEW YORK, April 24.—Antitrust laws, including the Sherman Act, were attacked today as obstructive to the development of industry and commerce by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, addressing the annual meeting of the National Civic Federation of which he is vice-president.

The American Federation of Labor is in its "new economic policy," which was the subject of Mr. Gompers' address, refused to join "in the hour against organization of industry," he declared, because "we wanted to develop the great natural and human resources of our country, although we did not underestimate the evils of corrupt business."

The American Federation of Labor has 6,000,000 members, he asserted, and is growing despite restrictive industrial legislation.

STINNES WIDOW GAINS
(BY CABLE-REUTERS DISPATCH)
BERLIN, April 24.—The wealthiest woman in Germany, the widow of Hugo Stinnes, is recovering rapidly after a long and painful day in which her gall bladder was removed by Prof. Friebram. Mrs. Stinnes suffered from the same disease which had claimed her husband two weeks previous. Friends of the family blame the excessive number of daily cups of black coffee for causing a family disease which afflicted the German billionnaire.

Clearing the Atmosphere

Political "Apple Sauce"

Municipal Power in Industry

IT SEEMS necessary, in this series of statements devoted to "clearing the atmosphere", to give some attention to certain misleading claims and pretensions which from time to time have been made on behalf of the Bureau of Power and Light and against Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation.

One of these claims, which has been repeated many and often is that the industrial growth and increase in the number of factories in Los Angeles are due to the favorable power rates and service of the Bureau of Power and Light.

Of course, every one familiar with the facts knows this to be absurd. The two most valuable locally manufactured products are motion pictures and petroleum products. They owe their presence here to climatic and scenic advantages in one case and, in the other case, discovery of oil close at hand; and besides, the most of the power used in these industries is supplied by the power corporations outside the city.

The Chamber of Commerce has brought hundreds of industries to Los Angeles; the All-Year Club has brought summer visitors by the hundred thousand; the climate and spirit of Southern California have exerted an appeal which has drawn and held multitudes of people from other sections. This growing population has created a market and the market has attracted the factories. That's the whole story. The Bureau's explanation is what is commonly called "apple sauce."

On the Other Hand—

Hundreds of local factories have packed up, bag and baggage, turned their backs upon the "benefits" and "advantages" offered by the political Power Bureau, and have moved across the city boundary into territory served by the power companies.

The electrical load for power purposes connected to power corporation lines in the territory surrounding Los Angeles is 140,000 horsepower.

Oakland Tosses Off Game to Seraphs Through Spasm of Misfit Errors

HORSE SHOES FOR KRUGMEN

'Angels Fall Into a Bed of Orchids at Oakland

'Acorns Toss Off Game by Five Juicy Errors

Freak Fracas is Certainly Good to Cherubs

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) SAN FRANCISCO, April 24.—

The Oaks got a running start today at Oakland, mashing six hits and scoring three runs in the first inning. And then they blew the ball game. Los Angeles winning by a score of 7 to 4. Boehler had a world of stuff, but could not control it, so in the fifth inning he walked three men. Four errors and an infield hit gave the Angels six runs. Six runs on one hit, and that hit was knocked down by Adams, is something to be proud of. Also three runs scored on a straight hit must be some kind of a record. The Oaks should have had five out of that attack, but tossed away two chances by bad work on the bases. Adams was picked off first by Hyer and Buehler, and then by second, trying to get that station on a throw to the plate, which was cut off.

LACE THOMAS
The first six Oaks who faced Tom Hughes in the first inning hit safely and one of the hits was a double by Lafayette, yet only three runs were scored.

The Angels picked up a run in the first inning on a hit by Tomby, a sacrifice. Brubaker's error on the bases, which was a double, led to a hit by Tomby, which hit Hughes safely everything that Tom Hughes threw up and with Boehler pitching the game looked to be in a tangle.

But that blew up in the fifth inning. Everything. Boehler finally relieved Boehler after he had forced a run over the plate by issuing a pass with the bases full and the veteran pitched good ball, but errors led a lot more runs.

BLANKS ANGELS
After he set squared away Foster blanked the Angels the last four rounds. Tom Hughes also improved after his bad inning in the first and the Oaks scored only once after that. Adams and Brubaker combining doubles in the seventh inning for a tally.

Capit. Louis Guleto is surely a hard luck athlete. He was hit on the left elbow by a pitched ball in the sixth inning. He was hit on the right arm by a pitched ball in the seventh. It was the same arm that was hurt just a few days ago.

Coast Polo Champions Will Enter National Tourney in New Jersey Durng August; Burke Confident

The Midwick Country Club's Coast championship polo squad will leave early in July for New Jersey to enter the national junior polo tournament at Rumson, marking the first time in history that a Far-West team has ever journeyed East in quest of national honors.

Midwick's team, including Carle, are still in Coronado, being left there because of the hoof-and-mouth disease, but will be shipped West in the summer.

Carleton Burke, captain of the team, expects his men to make a good showing against the easterners in view of the fact that they conquered the Riverdale team, made up of eastern stars, in the finals of the Coast championship.

The rating of the Midwick players follows:

M'NARY-HAUGEN BILL TO HOUSE

Committee Votes it Out by 14-to-7 Majority

Efforts at Substitution Easily Defeated

Export Bill Sponsored by Agriculture Bureau

(BY A. P. MORT WIRE)

WASHINGTON, April 24.—By a vote of 14 to 7 the House Agriculture Committee today reported the McNary-Haugen agricultural export bill.

Those who voted against committee approval were Clarke, Republican, New York; Voigt, Republican, Wisconsin; and Aswell, Louisiana; Kinchelo, Kentucky; Jones, Texas; and Doyle, Illinois. Democrats, others, with the exception of Ward, Republican, New York, who was absent, voted for the bill.

Unsuccessful efforts were made to substitute other measures for the proposal. By a vote of 18 to 4, the committee rejected the Norris-Simmons bill and voted down 18 to 3 the Voigt bill which would set up a corporation to sell wheat abroad. The so-called Toakum plan, as embodied in the Aswell bill, was turned down by a viva voce vote.

The McNary-Haugen measure comes from the committee with numbers of amendments changing the original provisions sponsored by the Department of Agriculture.

$200,000,000 CAPITAL

As reported it would provide for creation of a corporation with a capital of $200,000,000 supplied by the government, to promote the sale abroad of surplus farm products, live stock, as well as grain and cotton. Affairs of the corporation would be handled by five directors, one to be the Secretary of Agriculture and the others to be appointed by the President, who would be required to give representation to all sections of the country.

The corporation would seek to establish prices for various farm products that would bear the same ratio to about 400 basic commodities as they did during the ten years prior to the World War. Under the original bill such prices were to be fixed monthly but a committee amendment would enable the corporation to determine them for longer periods. To aid in maintenance of such prices, the President, under a committee amendment would have authority to declare embargoes on farm commodities, or to put into effect increased tariff duties.

SCRIP IS BANNED

One of the important committee changes was one which would do away with the requirement that the corporation pay farmers for their products partly in scrip. As reported the bill would provide that the corporation could either scrip or pay entirely in cash, making allowance for cost of marketing and probable losses.

Chairman Haugen of the agriculture committee, joint author of the bill, said he had been given assurance by Republican leaders that the measure would be taken up by the House by May 10.

As the bill was the Secretary of Agriculture, the McNary-Haugen measure, he would present his own bill, proposing an appropriation of $100,000,000 to assist in the export surplus agricultural products.

Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, expressed the hope that Mr. Norris would present his measure. He reminded the Senate that there were only forty days left before adjournment or recess for the national political conventions and that farm relief legislation was the most pressing.

Chairman Norris of the Senate Agriculture Committee gave notice that unless the Senate had opportunity soon to act on the McNary-Haugen measure, he would present his own bill, proposing an appropriation of $100,000,000 to assist in the export surplus agricultural products.

Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, expressed the hope that Mr. Norris would present his measure. He reminded the Senate that there were only forty days left before adjournment or recess for the national political conventions and that farm relief legislation was the most pressing.

Griffith Has Summons Out for Al Jolson

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

NEW YORK, April 24.—A summons was issued today by the clerk of the United States District Court in a suit brought by D. W. Griffith, Inc., against Al Jolson. While there is nothing in the record to show the nature of the suit, it is believed to be the outcome of Jolson's desertion from the Griffith Studio before the completion of a contract he had entered into to appear in a motion picture for that company. A few scenes were taken Jolson fled from the camera and the next thing the Griffith executives saw of him was on his way to Europe.

Lloyd Hamilton was substituted for Jolson and the picture was recently released under the name of "His Darker Self" and shown at the Cameo Theater.

Officers Search Lava Lake District for Clew

Bodies of Three Trappers Found as Ice Melts

(BY A. P. MORT WIRE)

BEND (Or.) April 24.—Officers of Deschutes county were today making every effort to gather evidence that might lead to the arrest of the slayer or slayers of three trappers, whose bodies were found late yesterday in Big Lava Lake, about sixty-five miles from Bend. A party set out this morning to bring the bodies to this city and further search for clues will be made on the trip. The victims were Dewey Morris, Edward Nichols and Roy Wilson. Each had been shot in the back of the head.

Breaking up of the ice of Big Lava Lake yesterday led to the discovery of the bodies, floating about 200 feet from shore. Supposition that the trappers had been lured from their cabin and shot down was confirmed by the fact that two of the bodies were coal-black.

The outer garments of the men and their weapons previously had been found in their cabin, which is at Little Lava Lake, a short distance from Big Lava Lake. Sled tracks had been found leading to a hole cut in the ice of Big Lava Lake and at the hole human hair had been found, enclosed in loam.

CHARLES KIMSEY SOUGHT

County authorities today broadcast word that they wanted Charles Kimsey, alias Lee Collins, for investigation in the slaying of the three trappers found slain in Big Lava Lake yesterday.

Kimsey was wanted in connection with digging and robbing land in the fall of W. B. Harrison, who was thrown into a cistern of a deserted cabin on Lost Chance Mountain and left for dead. Harrison escaped and notified authorities, who began a hunt for Kimsey. Harrison had gone to the cabin as a driver for Kimsey.

Discovery of the trappers' bodies was made yesterday by Deputies Adams and Innis while another deputy was cooking dinner at camp. They walked down to the lake, discovered that the ice was breaking up and on glancing in the direction of the hole in the ice saw the three corpses floating side by side.

ENTICED OUTDOORS

The investigators at the scene of the crime deduced that the trappers must have been enticed from their cabin, because the bodies of the three were attired in only light clothing. It was said that if they had been attacked while making laboring outside of their cabin, they would have had on heavier clothing because of the severity of the weather at that time of the year.

Deputy Adams expressed the belief that there were two in the murder party, one evidently having called the trappers from their cabin and the other, while the other, probably from ambush, shot the man with a high-powered rifle. The bodies, then, were placed on the trappers' sled, a deputy said, discovered indicated and hauled to Big Lava Lake.

The fact that the cabin itself showed no signs of any struggle also was taken to substantiate this theory.

EXPEDITION TO UNEARTH OLD RUINS

Dr. Cummings Finds Mound 7000 Years Old South of City of Mexico

(BY A. P. MORT WIRE)

WASHINGTON, April 24.—The National Geographic Society announced today the dispatch of an expedition to Mexico to uncover in the ruins of Cuicuilco, south of Mexico City, the oldest structure yet found on the American continent.

Prof. Byron Cummings, leader of the expedition, in preliminary observations disclosed an artificial mound 412 feet in diameter and fifty-two feet high and the explorers believe it probable that 1000 years before the first pyramid was built some monarch of the valley of Mexico forced his subjects to erect a great monument for him.

Skeleton remains of the Americans of 7000 years ago, specimens of their emblems and idols, and pieces of their earthenware found at Cuicuilco by Dr. Cummings, he believes, have upset current theories about the origin of human life on the American continent.

The steps of human development from the simplest beginnings are as easily traceable in the Valley of Mexico as in Mesopotamia or the Valley of the Nile," Dr. Cummings said.

RAILROAD PLANS EXCITE PHOENIX

Call for Construction of Link of 140 Miles

Would Connect Tucson With Santa Fe System

Means Main Line-El Paso to Los Angeles

PHOENIX, April 24.—Keen interest is being shown in the latest reports on the Tucson, Phoenix and Tidewater Railroad situation, indicating that the El Paso and Southern-Rock Island system will take over the stock of the Tidewater and will build a 140-mile link that is to connect the southwestern terminal at Tucson, with the southern terminus of the Santa Fe system at Phoenix. An application for authority to build this link now is pending before the Interstate Commerce Commission. If granted, only a few months of work would be needed to create a new main line between El Paso and Los Angeles, with use of the Santa Fe cut-off from Phoenix to the Coast.

PHOENIX ENTRY FUZZLING Just how the new road would enter Phoenix still is an apparent undetermined problem. The Tidewater representatives, aided by an active main-line association of local business men, with support from the State, county and municipal commissions, are trying to wrest the old Phoenix and Eastern right of way from the Southern Pacific, between the city and Phoenix, by way of Tempe. This dispute undoubtedly will be put up to the Federal courts. The Southern Pacific has actual ownership of much of the land traversed and claims that it will need all it has when it shall build its Gila River main line.

Against this is the claim that most of the right of way, granted for railroad uses and that, practically, it has been abandoned. It would be easy for the Southern Pacific to route into Phoenix from the south, over a much shorter line, but by so doing Tempe and Mesa would be left to one side, as well as the large traffic of the eastern end of the Salt River Valley.

JACKSON-STREET LINE Not generally appreciated is the fact that the Santa Fe has a line, on Jackson street, through to the eastern edge of the city of Phoenix. This line never belonged to the Phoenix and Eastern branch and hence was not transferred to the Southern Pacific at the time of the big trade, when the Santa Fe gained possession of the Needles-Mojave road. So, if the Tidewater here joins with the Santa Fe, to get to Los Angeles, it would appear that the Tidewater franchise along the paralleling Madison street would not be needed at all, unless for reaching a freight yard, on rather expensive ground, or for gaining access to more warehouses. The union depot, erected by the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe, for several years will be operated by the latter, so there is visible no lively need for the erection of a passenger station by the new enterprise.

WALKOUT LOOMS IN TAMPICO

General Strike of Oil Workers May 1 Unless Settlement Reached

BY JACK STARR-HUNT (BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) MEXICO CITY, April 24.—A general strike of workers in the Tampico oil fields will be called May 1 if the controversy between the El Aguila Oil Company and union workers is not settled, according to dispatches reaching here from Tampico today. Resumption of conferences between the El Aguila company, representatives of the Association of Petroleum Producers, Mexico, the Mexican Minister of Commerce and delegates from the employees is help up until a ruling is obtained from the Supreme Court of the association as to whether a representative of the Mexican Regional Confederation of Labor will be admitted to the talks. No word has been received from New York, but it is expected a ruling will be forthcoming tomorrow. Representatives of the Aguila company and the oil association are silent on the probable outcome of the conference. It is believed, however, that if the unions carry out the threat it will result in suspension of activities in the Tampico field. Reports from Tampico say that many workers already have obtained passports to the United States, preparatory to leaving if the strike is called.

Newspaper Refuses to Make Trip Until Dog Is Cared for DETROIT, April 24.—Fred Blake, 17-year-old newspaper arrested on a charge of burglary, declined to go to jail until a boarding place had been found for his little yellow and white dog, Chip. Chip was at Fred's heels when four detectives jumped out of an automobile and seized the boy on Clay avenue, on a warrant charging him with breaking and entering several stores at St. Louis, Mo. "Come along," commanded an officer. "All right," replied Fred. "But I'm going to take Chip, too." "Can't take no dogs to jail with you, boy," answered the detective. "Then you'll have to help me find a place to board Chip until I get out again," responded Fred. "All right! Jump in and let's go," agreed the four officers. An hour later Fred arrived at Police Headquarters, ready to go to St. Louis. The detectives said chip had found quarters in the basement of a downtown office building, where an employee promised to keep him until the newspaper again is free.

The Mayor has also ordered Fire Chief William Feldwick to visit the State Fire Marshal at Springfield and arrange an investigation.

DETROIT

DETROIT, April 24.—History may be made at Iron River during the next thirty days. The "forces of law and order" led by Rev. John B. Hubbard, of the First Presbyterian Church, have served notice on the village officers that gambling, open sale of liquor and tolerance of the former of vice shall be taken at once to oust them from office, according to the ultimatum. Two additional cases of smallpox were reported yesterday at Bay City. Dr. J. A. Kehoe, secretary of the Board of Health, says that the situation is now threatening. At present there are ten cases in the city with six people recently recovered. The Health Board will enforce strict adherence to its edicts of compulsory vaccination of all school teachers and students.

It came in the shape of a letter containing $3 in bills and a note in what appeared to be a woman's handwriting, which said: "Conscience money for jewel not assessed." The last conscience fund money, totaling $75, also in currency, came on February 2, 1914. Fire of undetermined origin destroyed three business establishments and caused loss estimated at $15,000 at Odessa, seven miles east of Ortonville. Places destroyed are Odessa Hardware Company, Handford Produce Company and Sellin & Co., implement dealers. Steps were taken at Mankato to place Mayor Dr. W. A. Beach under a peace bond as a result of an alleged assault made on his son-in-law, Harlow Laack, son of former Councilman A. G. Laack, last night. Laack is in a hospital suffering from a broken leg, and a deep gash over his eye said to have been received in the attack made by Mayor Beach. The attack is said to have been prompted by the

"If mademoiselle desires to become a believer in love at first sight—permit that one show a new dress frock of georgette—a love! Regard the skin—bouffant! Rippling with ruffles! Tiny ones—the edge of silver. The waist—quaint, is it not?—this close basque, this yoke of lace? And the color! Ah, the perfect shade for mademoiselle—coral, soft, exquisite! The price? Ninety-five dollars—little for a sweet a frock."

FOUR INDICTED IN OCCULT SECT

De Bit and Wife, Twining and Rabbi Held

Arrest Follows Charge of Illegal Stock Sale

Office Records and Names of Students Seized

Indictments charging violation of the Corporate Securities Act were returned by the county grand jury yesterday against Ralph De Bit, founder and head of the School of the Sacred Science; his wife, Dr. Jone Ingle De Bit, and two alleged associates, Rabbi William Rice and H. L. A. Twining, instructor in electrical science at Polytechnic High School.

The De Bits were placed under arrest shortly after the bills had been voted. Rabbi Rice also was taken into custody. Bail was set at $5000 each for the De Bits and $1000 for Rabbi Rice.

The investigation conducted by the district attorney's office was brought to a climax yesterday when investigators raided the headquarters of the school in the Walker Auditorium Building and seized records, stock certificates, documents and other papers.

Numerous names of students of the school were obtained. The school was declared to be a large sum to the De Bits.

The connection of Rabbi Rice with the school was first revealed yesterday by the indictment. He is declared to be one of the moving figures in the school and in the proposed establishment of the colony near Long Beach.

Twining is declared to have told the investigators that he severed his connection as a trustee with the school when it embarked into its campaign to sell certificates in the $1,000,000 association.

Important and startling revelations of the inner workings of the school were revealed by Dr. J. E. Krutzer, former student of the school, who declared to have been made to Dr. Krutzer by the school.

Dr. Krutzer had told the investigators that he was tricked into marrying his wife when they were students of the De Bits. He also requested Fannie Swan, housekeeper for the De Bits.

With the stock selling angle out of the way, Dr. Krutzer announced that "other features" of the school, presumably those barred by the state, would be brought in and quashed, and a far-reaching search made into every phase of the school's activities, he said.

Federal authorities are expected to conduct an investigation into the school to determine whether the mails have been used in the project, Mr. Krutzer said.

Dr. Krutzer said that he was a student of the school and that he was tricked into marrying his wife when they were students of the De Bits.

HART FILES REPLY TO WIFE

Screen Gunman's Answer to Allegations Says She Does Not Need to Work

It is unnecessary for Winifred Westover Hart to go to work, she never earned in excess of $200 a week anyhow, and her reputation as a screen actress is already depreciated, William S. Hart declared yesterday in his answer to his wife's suit to set aside portions of their separation agreement. The answer contains a denial of virtually all Mrs. Hart's allegations.

The separation agreement provided a trust fund of $100,000 for Mrs. Hart and of $100,000 for William S. Hart, Jr., and was made May 23, last, before the baby arrived. If Mrs. Hart got a divorce, the agreement specified, she would get the principal of her fund. The pact forbids her to accept any employment for pay, to seek employment in motion pictures, to allow herself to be photographed for public or advertising purposes, or to describe herself as Mrs. Bill Hart or Mrs. William S. Hart during the life of the trust.

Mrs. Hart in her suit declared the agreement contrary to law in that it prevented her making a living. She declared she had an offer of $500 weekly for screen appearance; that the bar to her acting would depreciate her reputation as a star, and that the agreement was overruled, denies that their marriage was a sham, and that she could not live on the income from the fund. She asked to be allowed the use of her marriage name.

The answer, filed after Hart's demurrer to the complaint had been overruled, denies that their marriage was a sham, and that she could not live on the income from the fund. She asked to be allowed the use of her marriage name.

WOMEN CHEER FOR COOLIDGE

Club Dedication Turns Into Great Ovation

Nonpartisan Crowd Swept by Enthusiasm

Mrs. O. P. Clark in Tribute to President

Crowds of women waited patiently for hours yesterday to enter the new auditorium of the Philanthropy and Civic Club in Wilton Place to be present at the dedicatory service and luncheon presided over by Lillian Burkhardt Goldsmith, the president. When at last the service began it ended in a remarkable ovation to President Coolidge.

"Our Next President" was the subject, one of many assigned to various club leaders in the city. Mrs. O. P. Clark was presented as past president of the Friday Morning Club and the Women's City Club of Reshawn. She paid a remarkable tribute to the President.

"Where are the Democrats in this club?" Good-natured laughter was the response and some one said: "This has suddenly become a Republican club."

"Calvin Coolidge believes he is the instrument of the people for service. He takes infinite patience and the instrument shall be kept and clean," said Mrs. Clark. "It is not that his mentality is so great but he uses his mental equipment in an extraordinary way."

"Today there are 755 delegates pledged to the President," she continued "though only 655 are needed to nominate him. But there remains a great duty for the electorate of California and particularly the women who comprise more than half of the voters. We women must see that California gets in the right column."

"We have been talking here of all kinds of service to our fellow creatures. No greater thing can we do than this one thing. The President stands for the very sort of service which we talk and the kind we perform. He is free from the things we detect. He is free from the terrible habit of prolonged speech. He is free from the sin of befogging issues. He is free from the sin of wrongdoing and from graft. He makes a rule as we club women: to do the day's work and tell the truth. He makes his own terms with life. He begets respect which inevitably leads to affection and he has many friends."

"His mind and soul are not cluttered with dilemmas. He is free to do the good will of the people whose instrument he is."

"Wakes Enthusiasm" Mrs. Clark, who knows the President personally, awakened great enthusiasm in her large audience. It was not planned as a political meeting but Mrs. Shmmer P. Hunt, who spoke on "How to choose among the candidates," said:

"President Coolidge can do more than anyone else to restore the old American ideal of the citizen. He is a man who promises too much but for the one who modestly tells you he will be his best. Service is the touchstone of man and the President has served valiantly."

"The Democratic party elected to get into power by defaming the Republican party. But with the President in office, the old American ideal of the citizen is being restored. He is a man who promises too much but for the one who modestly tells you he will be his best. Service is the touchstone of man and the President has served valiantly."

REPORT ASKS FURTHER PARKING RESTRICTIONS

Findings of Subcommittee Survey Ready for Utility Board; Names Streets for Ban

Lacking only the signature of E. E. East, representing the Automobile Club of Southern California, the report of the Parking Survey Committee of seven was made public yesterday. It was not, however, submitted to the Board of Public Utilities and will not be until Mr. East has signed the document.

At the office of the club, it was later explained that Mr. East, as a member of Gov. Richardson's advisory committee on the extension of the State Highway system, has been unavoidably absent from the city on one of several recent inspection trips and, not having had time to read the full text of the report, has withheld his signature. There was no question, it was said, of any division of opinion between other members of the committee and the policies of the club.

In the main, the text of the report, which covers thirty-three pages of typewriting, bears out the unofficial forecast printed in The Times yesterday. Besides delineating a congested district within which more stringent regulations are recommended as to parking on four north and south and seven east and west main thoroughfares, the committee proposes these additional rules:

"Parking of sightseeing cars and other vehicles used in the promotion of sales of real estate, etc., should be prohibited in the congested district during the hours from 7 a. m. to 5:15 p. m."

"No parking on Fifth Street from Hill to Olive, or on Olive from Fifth to Sixth (Pershing Square district), between 7 a. m. and 5:15 p. m."

"No parking at any time, in excess of three hours, anywhere along the main thoroughfares, life, limb and property if parking is permitted."

"No parking between 7 a. m. and 5:15 p. m. on streets in the congested district where grades are excessive. An excessive grade is one of more than 12 percent, and is dangerous, especially when such streets feed into important traffic arteries."

"Parking in the second line of traffic should be prohibited on all city streets at all times."

"Parking in permitted locations should be reduced to thirty minutes for private vehicles and lengthened from fifteen to twenty minutes for commercial vehicles."

"The method of marking should be agreed on after conference with the Traffic Commission and the Automobile Club of Southern California. The placing of private 'no parking' signs, or other signs indicating traffic prohibitions, should be prohibited by ordinance. On all streets in the congested district not listed in the schedule specifically enumerated, the present regulations, prohibiting parking between 4 p. m. and 5:15 p. m., remain unchanged."

"If approved by the Board of Public Utilities, the report will be transmitted to the City Council for legislative action."

The committee asks if the regulations which it proposes will tend to cause diminished use of automobiles and answers, "No."

"It is our belief," says the report, "that not only will there be no discontinuance, but that there will, in fact, be an increase in the number of automobiles coming into and out of the business district each day."

"The reason that more automobiles do not go into the congested district at present, especially during the rush hours, is that it is a physical impossibility for them to move with reasonable safety and comfort. And that impossibility exists because the street is given up to what we have classed as less important uses. We are satisfied that a greater number of automobiles can be accommodated in the congested district when more street space is made available to moving vehicles and less space is occupied for parking and storing."

There will result, the committee believes, as the effect of the proposed regulations, a business decentralization which it considers desirable.

"We are convinced," says the report, "that the proposed regulations will result in a business decentralization which it considers desirable."

report, "that anything interfering with the safe, speedy and convenient transaction of public and private business in the center of the city is bound to affect adversely the legitimate business and property interests of that district. The point had been reached, we believe, where the congestion caused by the parking of automobiles in certain streets and during certain times does actually have this serious adverse effect."

As for the possible greater use of street cars and buses, the committee says that already "the tendency toward the use of means of mass transportation is clearly apparent, and will continue, in our opinion, with little effect from parking regulation. As the congestion in a given district increases, increasing numbers turn to the vehicle of mass transportation as the better and more economical means of conveyance."

"Having in mind the interests of the city as a whole, every effort should be made to provide the most convenient, speediest and safest and the most economical mass transportation possible. The committee addressed itself to its task in the understanding that its duty was two-fold—first, to ascertain authentic facts, and second, to make recommendations based on them. It first defined the congested district, as extending north and south from First street to Ninth, and east and west from Los Angeles street to Figueroa. The outer business district it bounded by Washington and San Pedro streets, Sunset Boulevard and Figueroa street. Rush hours, when congestion is at its worst, it found to be from 7 to 9:30 a. m. and 3 to 6:15 p. m.

SACRIFICES NECESSARY
No cure could be administered, it seems clear, without working losses and inconvenience to some interests, so it adopted for a guiding principle the rule of the greatest possible good for the greatest possible number. From this general principle were deduced the following corollary principles:

(1) Steam railroads, as the most inconvenient and hazardous mode of traffic, must first be removed from congested streets. "This means that the use of such streets as Alameda street for steam railroad traffic must be prohibited, and that steam railroad-grade crossings, such as on Alameda street and the grade crossings adjacent to the Los Angeles River, must be eliminated."

(2) Trucks, delivery vans and other forms of freight traffic must make way for passenger traffic. "Freight traffic must either be diverted to special thoroughfares or must be assigned to such hours of the day or night when it will least interfere with the most important passenger traffic."

(3) Passenger travel by street car takes precedence over passenger travel by automobile. Street

PICTURE BRIDES AT HARBOR

Japanese Girls Here on Way to Husbands in Peru;
Colorful Throng on Liner from Orient

Picture brides from Tokyo, turbaned Sikhs from Singapore, bland Chinese merchants from Hongkong, Japanese emigrants and Anglo-Saxon tourists thronged the rails of the Japanese liner Ginyo Maru as she arrived at the harbor yesterday, from the Orient for South America. There were 211 passengers in her cabins and 7416 tons of cargo in her hold.

Thirty-seven Japanese girls, dressed in the colorful kimono, bright sashes and white sandals of their native land, are on the Ginyo Maru, en route to Peru to meet the husbands they have never seen.

In sharp contrast to the little picture brides were fifty-two staid Hindus, bearded with the white headgear of the Punjab Hills, on their way to a Hindu settlement in the interior of Mexico. This morning twenty-three Japanese, all expert deep-sea divers, will be transferred from the Ginyo Maru to the little British motor-ship Gryme, for transportation to the continent to arrive from Japan in a year to engage in the harvesting of seaweed and its manufacture into a valuable vegetable gelatin.

The Ginyo Maru is one of the three fast liners operated between the West Coast of South America by the Toyo Kisen Kaisha. She will sail today for Valparaiso and way ports after discharging 1250 tons of general oriental cargo and loading a similar amount for South American ports.

That there be a strict and uniform enforcement by the police department and by the courts of all traffic regulations for the carrying out, step by step, of the entire program. "Every effort should be made to secure the adoption of the new city charter, by the voters. This will enable the city to deal comprehensively with the electric light, water and sewerage, and will make possible the adoption of plans for rapid transit by means of the construction of subways and elevated roads."

The committee found that the average parking time taken by all automobiles is 23.3 minutes, and by commercial vehicles exclusively 23.4 minutes; that the excess time consumed averages 15.7 per cent of the allowed time; that between 18 and 20 per cent of all vehicles are commercial, and that the average number of passengers carried in private cars is less than two—to be exact, 1.57 per car.

PARKING SPACE AVAILABLE
In garages and private parking spaces, there is room, the committee found, for 10,335 cars, whereas the number of all parked cars in the congested district, even during periods of the greatest congestion, never exceeds 9900.

"A charge, of course," says the report, "is made for parking or storing vehicles on private property. The question of expense to the private owner of a vehicle cannot, however, in our opinion, be considered as the determining factor. The cost of parking is an operating expense, exactly as garage expense or the cost of storing street cars when not in use."

"The traffic department of the police force should be enlarged to enable it to carry out the principles of the foregoing recommendations. The committee believes that it is imperative for the Council to make available the money required for this purpose and that a strict enforcement of traffic ordinances and the indiscriminate punishment of offenders is absolutely necessary. "It is of the utmost importance that there are still a few openings left for particularly well-qualified enlisted men.

In view of the fact that there will be only one air squadron formed in the State, competition for the base has been especially keen and practically every city of any size has put in a bid for the unit. The city which is successful will be assured of a high level of perfect aerial defense should war conditions ever arise. In fact, it will be the best defense for the entire State and will also be the headquarters for California forest patrol work.

LITTLE COST TO CITY
According to an announcement made last night, the only cost to the city obtaining the field will be the cost of erecting two hangars, a gasoline station and headquarters building, all the materials for these being supplied by the government. The State's expenditure annually will be in excess of $15,000 for maintaining the unit, all of which will be spent in the immediate vicinity of the field. The squadron will be a permanent affair; hence the field selected must be permanently suitable for this purpose. Large sums will annually be spent by the State in erecting buildings and in upkeep.

Gen. Mitchell, yesterday inspected Clover Field in company with Lieut. Moseley and with the latter few to San Diego, inspecting the coast defenses on route. Leaving Clover Field at 2:10, the air men returned at 5:05, having covered the 248 miles in less than three hours—an example of the mobility of aerial defense in time of war.

BRILLIANT ROSTER
The tentative organization being formed by Lieut. Moseley has its roster a brilliant array of men, and it is believed that the fact will be of great aid to Los Angeles in impressing the adjacent-general with the desirability of locating the unit in the vicinity of Los Angeles. According to reports, there is still room for a few enlisted men with desirable qualifications. Such men should lose no time in getting in touch with him at Clover Field.

SANTA MONICA MAY PURCHASE CLOVER FIELD
By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
SANTA MONICA, April 24.—Plans for the outright purchase of Clover Field were started by the City Council today after Lieut. C. W. Moseley, commanding field, reported the intention of the owner of the land to subdivide it at the termination of the three-year lease held by Santa Monica.

The land consists of approximately 160 acres and is owned by H. W. Stanton. The lease has about one and a half years to run. Councilmen expressed the opinion that it would be extremely unwise to abandon the field, which is known as one of the best equipped on the Pacific Coast and which promises to increase in prestige, both for itself and Santa Monica. The field gained international renown for the Army around-the-world flight.

It is suggested that acreage adjoining the field be purchased and made into a municipal golf links. This feature would greatly en-

Hands of Schedule to Keep Peace in Family

Andy Gump is hanging around the club most of the time these days.

Min has so many callers at home that poor Andy can't get any peace of mind. Everyone in the neighborhood knows over to the Gump residence to help Min prepare for the Times Andy Shop Tour.

Min starts next Tuesday. He thinks Andy ought to wear such and such a hat and Mrs. Gump should wear another because it is more appropriate for shopping. So Min is having her troubles too. Andy is getting aced of invitations from business men to call on them for they have not got their new spring line in.

Andy tells them all to see Min for he has washed his hands of the schedule. Mary Philbin is going to let Min make up the time to keep peace in the family. Chester ripped the pants yesterday so it means another suit. Min dropped the sugar bowl and a new sugar container went down.

The Times will publish in tomorrow's issue a complete account of the various shops the Gump family is visiting.

Fred Miller, who manages the California Theater, mailed them three passes to see the western premiere of "The Westerner" which plays this evening.

What's the latest? The Gumps will be in the city tomorrow evening.

Mr. Miller, Andy and the Times are the originals of the Andy Gump Shopping Tour. It all came about because Joe Murphy plays the part of Andy on the screen; while Pay Tinker is Min and Jackie Morgan is Chester. The trio will tour around in a high-speed automobile visiting numerous places of business, for three days.

LOVE WINS HOLD-UP BATTLE

Girl Given Probation When She Tells Story of Robbery Plot to Get Wedding Ring

How love fought a battle with cold reality and straitened financial circumstances and won was revealed yesterday in Judge Keetch's court, where Isabelle Malcolm, formerly Isabelle Yarbha, 19 years of age, was granted probation for three years on a charge of attempt to commit second-degree robbery to which the young woman pleaded guilty.

Mrs. Malcolm was accused of attempting to rob E. L. Harrison, a jeweler of 707 West Sixth street. The story of her fight for love against almost overwhelming odds was told in the probation officer's report of the case, in which probation was recommended.

The girl told the officer she was prompted to try to rob Harrison because she was in love with Malcolm and wanted to marry him. They were in desperate financial circumstances and she could not afford to buy a wedding or engagement ring.

Passing Harrison's store one day, she continued, rings in the window caught her eye and she entered the place, requesting Harrison to show her the jewelry. While Harrison reached in his dress like millions. I think, too, that the most of them must earn about $20 a week and put $15 of it in clothes and the balance in food. Another thing I have observed about so many American girls is that they are not honest—not in the sense of being crooked, but you can't depend on what they say or what they tell you. If they make an appointment with you you can't be sure they'll be there. You know what I mean? I think too many of them say things just to be talking. Our girls at home are sincere. The American girl thinks too much about herself and her dress.

"I have noticed also that in America there is not so much of the home life as in Norway. There are not the home ties. For instance, have you noticed how many families live in the restaurants? Not so in Norway."

"But, on the whole, I like the American girl. I like very much to see them dressed up, they certainly have a style all their own. Although based on the Parisian styles, they are a great improvement on those of Paris."

Mr. Johnson says he draws his conclusions about the American girls from meeting all types—the girls in the shops to the girls at the universities.

It is necessary, the answer says, to prohibit her use of the name Hart because the name has an international reputation which would be injured by such use, and would subject Hart to "reproach and criticism." Mrs. Hart, he asserts, desires to commercialize their "unhappy domestic difficulty."

For the welfare of the child it is necessary that the agreement be carried out strictly, he says, and asks the court to enforce it.

Hart's attorneys are Scarborough & Bowen. Mrs. Hart is represented by Carpenter & Fourie.

Police Capture Suspect After Chase in Street
Recognized as a burglar suspect who had eluded them on February 12, last, W. G. Talbot was captured after a chase of several blocks yesterday afternoon by Police Officers Hamrick and Meyer.

The officers were riding in an automobile when they saw Talbot standing at the intersection of Halldale avenue and Twenty-seventh street. He recognized them also, it is said, and took to his heels. He led for several blocks around buildings, down alleys and over fences, but they finally overtook him.

Talbot was lodged in the City Jail on a charge of suspicion of burglary.

WASHBOARDS AND FLAPPERS
Son of Norwegian Laundry King Studies Both in Tour of States and Gives His Views

The great American flapper and the great American washboard may be two inharmonious institutions but Arne Johnson, 31-year-old Norwegian recently arrived in Los Angeles, apparently has been able to bring them together under his analytical eye.

Mr. Johnson, whose father claims the distinction of establishing the first modern laundry in Norway some thirty years ago, is touring the United States studying the latest methods in American laundries. With typical Scandinavian industry, young Johnson just peels off his coat, rolls up his shirt sleeves and studies by actually doing the work in the laundry. He has worked in the past six months in laundries in Chicago, New York and other cities.

But as to that other great American industry—the flapper. "Well," said the young Norwegian, "like the American girl, she is a whole lot like the American girl. Yes, we have the flapper at home but not so much. The American girl is the greatest. I have never seen one. She certainly knows how to dress. But the American girl uses more cosmetics than the Norwegian girls do. They seldom use rouge and the lip stick and the eyebrow pencil to use it correctly. On the whole, I think when I see make-up—as you call it—put on artistically, it can be very correct. The whole thing is an amusement also at the dress of the American business girl. They

Of Interest to Women.

THE LAST WORD. BY ALMA WHITAKER

THE 1903 VINTAGE

The great fashionable hotel was celebrating its twenty-first birthday. And the entertainment provided was a sort of little cabaret performance contrasting the styles, songs, dances and manners of 1903 with those of today.

And most of the company there present had been the belles and beaux, the "younger set," the flappers of that generation.

One could hear the little gasp of memory as those "Gibson" girls and their swains strolled through the platform, how funny they looked, with their tiny, aquiline waists, their lofty headresses, their long, full, sweeping skirts, their funny little sunshades, their leg-o'-mutton sleeves, their hair perched coyly upon high pompadours.

You see, my very first long dress, the very first time I put my hair up, the first time I was admitted to adult society, was in that far-off 1903. And many of the women present had been youngling matrons then, still struggling for the name of the modern girl.

Just for once the interest in the modern flapper, the modern styles, the modern songs, the flirty jazy modern dances, colored in the contrast, was less marked. So many of us were so busy remembering. And here and there a 60-year-old husband was queuing the hand of a 40-year-old wife beneath the table. And one quite old dowager grinned sheepishly as she admitted that 1903 was the year of her "second blooming." She bridled naughtily and wriggled her shoulders as the strains of "The Merry Widow" waltz enveloped us.

And pretty soon we were confiding to each other how young we had made it.

Actually, of course, the popular songs were not any more intelligent in those days. And when those Gibson girls danced those old dances and did their best to frisk their lengthy skirts and waltz and show a soupçon of stocking, we knew they were faithfully portraying the sort of girls we were.

The new songs are a bit more snappy now, but quite as silly. The new dances a bit more frank.

Housewarming Signals Opening of New Market

The Hill Street Market received its friends, keeping open house on Wednesday preparatory to a career of usefulness and beauty. Bright with blossoms, gay with music and interesting with new merchandise, this establishment furnishes a convenient center for the purchase of high-class food, fruits, canned and fresh vegetables, and groceries. Divided into many centers specializing in those commodities, at popular prices, the new place is spacious, spotlessly clean and inviting.

It is the plan to contribute to the aesthetic, as well as to the material well-being of patrons, a fine orchestra giving pleasing programs each Saturday, during business hours.

Messrs. Maurice, Burnett and Frank Wolfson are the proprietors, and the location is at 710 South Hill street, the entire down stairs floor being devoted to the new market.

B. G. Goodhue Dies Suddenly in New York

Bertram G. Goodhue, known as the "father of the skyscraper" and designer of the plans for the new city public library, died suddenly of a heart attack at his home in New York late Wednesday night, according to dispatches received here yesterday.

Mr. Goodhue was one of the leading exponents of the skyscraper type of building for New York. He was known internationally not only as an architect but as an author, one of his best known literary products being his book "Mexican Memories." He was the designer of the Nebraska State Capitol building and many other equally large structures. He was also one of the designers of St. Thomas in New York. It was because of his fame that he was retained by officials of Los Angeles to draw the plans for the new public library. These had been nearly completed by Mr. Goodhue at the time of his death.

OPEN SHOP APPROVED BY ACTORS

Co-Stars at Theater in City Say Strike Planned Will Be Ruinous

Differences have arisen between the Actors Equity Association and some of its principal members in regard to the "open shop" attitude adopted by the organization. It was indicated yesterday in statements issued by Margaret Lawrence and Wallace Eddinger, who are playing a co-starring engagement at Wilkes' Majestic Theater, that Miss Lawrence and Mr. Eddinger are active members of the association, but oppose the enforcement of the "closed-shop" policy adopted by the organization.

In a statement last night Miss Lawrence declared that she is familiar with the attitude of both the producers and the association and that she does not discount the value of the protection afforded by the actor by the organization. However, she said, a "closed-shop" policy in the theaters at this time would be unreasonable and the conflict thus engendered would hurt the actor physically and artistically.

Mr. Eddinger, who in addition to being affiliated with the association, is also indirectly connected with the Producing Members' Association, which includes his partners, also expressed himself emphatically against the "Equity shop" at this time.

He has exerted every effort to avert a strike because I realize that a repetition of the strike of 1916, which will cause a lot of unhappiness for all concerned. I have felt that if the Equity could see its way clear to compromise with the Producing Members' Association to the extent of not enforcing the "Equity shop" much good would result to everyone.

Harding Film Taken at Park Will Be Shown

Motion pictures of the Yellowstone Park trip of the late President Harding will be shown at the Southwest Museum Sunday at 3 p.m. Miss Ruth Johnson Todd will lecture in connection with the film.

Following this, from 8 to 4 p.m., a musical program by F. K. Arns and others will be presented. Prof. Arns will give a lecture on "The Four Cardinal Principles of Voice Culture."

The children's activities at the museum today will be from 10 a.m. until noon. The natural history division will be given a talk by Alfred Cookman on "The nesting habits of birds. Other divisions will conduct programs as follows: Music appreciation, led by Mrs. Frances Arnold Greenwood; art appreciation, led by Mrs. Nell Brooks Mayhew; travel and history division, Dr. Herbert E. Baumgardt. An educational film, a trip through the Canadian Rockies, also will be shown.

TO IMPROVE BUILDING

C. E. Toberman Announces Bank Will Occupy Floor

Improvements to cost approximately $250,000 have been started on the Toberman Building at the southeast corner of Hollywood Boulevard and Highland avenue, it was announced yesterday. It is planned to make the lower floor one room which will house the Federal Trust and Savings Bank. The bank is now at 616 Hollywood Boulevard.

In announcing that the Federal Bank would occupy the remodeled building, Toberman declared that plans for a new high-limit building at Hollywood Boulevard and McCadden street had been abandoned.

HILL WILL LEAVE UNIVERSAL FORCES

Robert E. Hill, one of Universal's best known directors, yesterday announced his resignation from the studio forces. He plans to handle features for another company, but will not announce the details for several weeks.

Hill was scheduled to direct Herbert Rawlinson in "Rose of Neapolit," by Gerald Beaumont. Following his resignation this play was assigned to Edward Laemmle, who will do it before Lincoln Carter's "Carnegie." Hill will finish out his last Rawlinson picture, "Dark Stairways," before he leaves the studio.

Among Hill's recent pictures are "Excitement," with Laura La Plante, "Relativity," with the same star, and "Jack of Clubs," with Herbert Rawlinson.

FLOOD CONTROL
NEEDS ARE TOLDWelfare of Back Country
Essential to CityEngineer Reagan Explains Huge Dam ProjectsWill Conserve Water for Homes and Farms

BY JAMES W. REAGAN
(Chief Engineer, Los Angeles County Flood Control District)

Prosperity of Los Angeles city, being controlled by the so-called "back country," was one of the chief reasons why the water conservation and flood-control plans, as they appear on the primary plan, let were planned to blanket the entire county.

In addition to construction of the huge San Gabriel Canyon dam and reservoir, costing $15,000,000, and the large Fuddingstone dam,
two other huge projects, the Pacolma and Big Tujunga dams and reservoirs are contemplated. They would eliminate the flood hazard in the San Fernando Valley and store water both in the subterranean reservoirs and in the mountainous for domestic and agricultural purposes.

The Big Tujunga Canyon drainage is second in area only to the San Gabriel. It is a high, mountainous area of some 100 square miles, and produces such a heavy runoff that when its flood peak joins the waters of the other drainages in the San Fernando Valley the volume of the Los Angeles River has in times past equalled that discharged from the San Gabriel Mountains and San Gabriel River.

DAM AT CANYON MOUTH

To control the flood peaks from this Tujunga drainage as far as possible, a rock and earth fill dam is proposed near the mouth of the canyon, the dam to have a height of 140 feet above the stream bed and contain a reinforced concrete core wall from bedrock, and the rock in the side of the canyon up to the crest of the dam. The upstream slope of the dam will be paved with reinforced concrete.
The spillway will be at an elevation of 1440 feet, which would be fifteen feet below the top of the dam. The area would approximate 270 acres.

Flood-control work would also be done in the Tujunga central wash, the east and west sides of the main Tujunga. The project would cost $1,600,000.

The section drained by the Pacolma Canyon and its area lies north of the valley and comprises in round numbers thirty square miles. From this watershed very large floods sweep down into the valley and often injure the town of Van Nuys. Many millions of dollars in taxable or assessable property lies near the track of some of these floods, and it is proposed to remove this menace
by constructing a dam in the Pacolma Canyon about half a mile above its mouth.

PLAN CONCRETE DAM

The dam would be of concrete of the varying radii type of arch, rising to a height of 275 feet. An imposing capacity of about 12-100 acre feet would be created, will stop or hold all but major floods, and control major floods by permitting a portion of the water to seep through the dam as the reservoir fills from the storm waters reaching it from the highlands.

The estimate for cost of this Pacolma dam totals $1,720,000.

Numerous letters received by the flood-control district seek answer to two questions: when will work begin on this tremendous project, if the bonds are passed at this coming election, and when would the work be completed?

WORK TO BEGIN SOON

Of the twelve works to be built, eleven can be constructed within a period of three to four years. This excepts the San Gabriel dam, which would require five or six years to build. Work will be begun on all the projects as quickly as possible, a period which may be but a week, thirty days, or slightly longer.

I have attempted to show the citizens of this county that undoubtedly one of the greatest problems before them is the conservation of water and the safeguarding of property, both in the city and the county against the flood menace.

We all confidently look to a population of 4,000,000 persons in Los Angeles county, and that at none too distant a time. If we are to provide adequate water supply for this population, steps must be taken at once to conserve the rainfall in the county itself.

At present that precipitation is wasted. During heavy rains it runs off into the sea. If we can but hold this water in the mountains and release it in such a manner as to permit its percolation into the gravel bed reservoirs of the lowlands, then we will provide new sources of supply.

HOLLYWOOD TO AID FUND DRIVE

Business Men Underwrite Industrial Plan

Campaign for 100 Per Cent Enrollment On

City Realty Men Will Meet to Pledge Support

The only aim of the Greater Los Angeles Association is to put over Greater Los Angeles and the Pacific Southwest as the industrial white spot of the world.

The Greater Los Angeles Association is thoroughly a business enterprise and is in no sense political and it cannot and will not take sides in controversial matters.

It is engaged in an effort to promote industrial development throughout the Greater Los Angeles area and will confine itself fully to that purpose.

The use of the association slogan—"Keep the White Spot White"—by any organization in an effort to connect the association with outside movement is absolutely unauthorized.

GREAT LOS ANGELES ASSOCIATION

By Harry H. Merrick, President

Hollywood last night rallied to the support of the Greater Los Angeles Association's campaign for members in Hollywood.

The action was taken at a meeting of more than 350 civic, business and professional leaders of Hollywood at the Hollywood Masonic Temple. At the conclusion of the meeting, a special committee of three was appointed by acclamation to take over the campaign for members in Hollywood.

The committee consists of C. E. Zoberman, chairman; G. G. Greenwood and George Eastman.

Among those who addressed the meeting were Harry H. Merrick, president of the Greater Los Angeles Association; H. Woodruff, industrial expert of New York and Hollywood; Willis Owen, Will Chapin, B. T. Taft and Mrs. Norton, president of the Hollywood Business Women's Club.

REALTY MEN PLEDGE
The committee announced that the drive for members in Hollywood would begin at once and would be continued without let up until every business man and merchant in the community had enrolled.

The ballroom of the Biltmore will be the setting for the Los Angeles Realty Board luncheon the 28th inst., when more than a thousand realty men will assemble to pledge themselves to the support of the Greater Los Angeles Association movement.

"Not only has the board given its unqualified endorsement to the movement for more industries to carry the Made-in-Los Angeles brand, but its members are enthusiastic in lending their personal efforts in making the campaign of the Greater Los Angeles Association the most successful ever undertaken in this city," said W. L. Brent, president of the Realty Board, today.

MONEY TO TALK

"Every member of our organization is alive to the fact that our industrial section must develop if we are to continue on the high tide of prosperity which has been a characteristic of Los Angeles in the past. There is no reason why our merchants should be forced into the eastern markets in order to supply the needs of our citizens. If we are going to make this city an industrial center, now is the time to support this project not only with cheer but with actual cash that will bring the manufacturers to Los Angeles."

Huntington Beach, Anaheim and Fullerton organized membership drives under the direction of their chambers of commerce last night.

Long Beach, Alhambra and Redondo have called meetings for tonight. Executives of the chambers of commerce will organize large groups of workers to assist in the Greater Los Angeles Association campaign.

Glendora Chamber of Commerce yesterday endorsed the Greater Los Angeles movement, and is arranging a luncheon for next week at which bankers and merchants of Covina, San Dimas, La Verne and Azusa will be asked to join in a district membership drive for the association.

Indorsements have been received at headquarters in the Hill-street Building from Arthur O. Garrett, vice-president of the Continental National Bank, W. A. Boyne, Jr., vice-president of the Commercial National Bank, and President Ben J. Meyer of the Union Bank and Trust Company.

Strict Hospital Building Law Is Officials' Aim

Executive officers of six municipal departments joined yesterday in a round robin to the City Council, recommending that all Los Angeles hospitals of Class D construction "should be discontinued from operating at the earliest possible date," and that hereafter all hospital buildings of more than two stories height be of Class A (fireproof) construction.

Those signing are: L. E. Phelps, Board of Mechanical Engineers; Hugh J. McGuire, Board of Public Works; James H. Childs, Bureau of Housing and Sanitation; Agnes G. Talcott, superintendent of nurses; R. J. Scott, chief of the fire department for the Bureau of Fire Prevention; and J. J. Backus, inspector of buildings.

THREATS LAID TO SUEPT

Confessed Aide in Mail-Pouch Robbery Testifies Asserted Principal Was Vengeful

Several threats were made by Joseph R. Abernathy, former Superintendent of Schools at Anaheim, after he was arrested on a charge of robbing a registered mail pouch at Anaheim on December 27, 1922, J. Lloyd Findley testified yesterday in Federal Judge Bledsoe's court.

Findley, formerly employed to carry mail from the Anaheim post-office to the railroad station, has pleaded guilty to a charge that he assisted in robbing the registered pouch of some $25,000 that had been mailed by an Anaheim bank. Findley testified that Abernathy was the chief instigator of the plan to steal the money, and that he was assisted by Charles H. Wheeler, a clerk in the registry division of the postoffice.

Findley testified that after he confessed to his part in the robbery and thereby had implicated Abernathy and Wheeler and caused their arrest, Abernathy frequently expressed his wrath while in jail and declared he would have revenge on Findley.

The government introduced in evidence a letter purporting to have been written by Abernathy to his brother, William Abernathy, at Lutesville, Mo., in which it was explained that the defendant, Abernathy, wished his brother to assist in negotiating some "secret" transaction. According to the letter, Abernathy had made $15,000 helping a harbor contractor get a $3,000,000 contract from the Harbor Commission and, because he wished to keep the deal quiet, he asked his brother to assist in placing some of the bills in circulation in the letter.

Postoffice Inspector Lowe testified that he found pieces of sealing wax in Abernathy's garage at Anaheim and that the wax corresponded to that which had been used by the bank in sealing the packages of money that had been stolen from the registered pouch.

City Council Votes 5 to 3 for Exile of Mexican Lunch Carts from Old Plaza

Alas for the fragrance of romance and chill con carne, the Mexican lunch carts, for so many years a feature of the Old Plaza, must go. Or so it would appear, for the solitary vote by which they were granted a new lease of life, at a recent meeting of the City Council, was withdrawn yesterday by its possessor, Boyle Workman, president of the Council, and reconsideration, was voted, 5-3.

Those in favor of beans and romance were Councilmen Baker, Criswell and Wheeler. Councilman Mushet was absent, but his vote could not have changed the day for Councilmen Allen, Gregory, Mallard, Sanborn and Wheeler chose the part of prosaic sanitation.

As castror of the deciding vote at the previous session, on an ordinance exiling the ambulatory refectories of Little Mexico, it was over for another week.

Indorsement of the proposed police bond issue to be voted on at the May 6 election has been given by the board of directors of the Better America Federation and is as follows:

Whereas, a proposal asking for bonds amounting to $1,600,000 has been placed on the ballot May 6, which sum is to be devoted to extensions and equipment for the Los Angeles police department, and

Whereas, the Better America Federation for several years has devoted effort to help make this city an uncomfortable place for the criminal and afford its citizens the best means of protection, and

Whereas, due to the rapid growth of Los Angeles in population and territory, the police department has been greatly handicapped in the performance of duty through inadequate facilities, and is now calling upon the public to vote bonds which will add to its efficiency through the program of Chief of Police Vollmer, therefore,

What you have a right to expect from your dentist

Values to Which Everyone is Entitled

It is not necessary to pay an excessive price for first class dentistry. It is not necessary that the patient be penalized by undue loss of valuable time nor by the payment of extra fees for the services of outside specialists. Pain, too, is a burden the patient need not bear and its absence represents another value to which he is entitled.

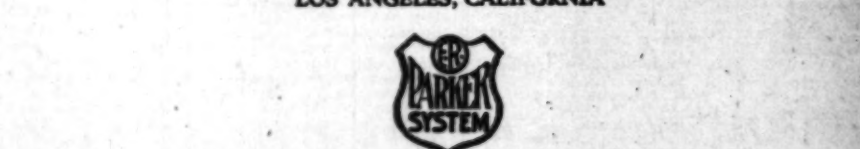

That the public has a right to expect the dentist to conserve its time, and that it is entitled to receive complete and satisfactory treatment at one cost and without pain, is demonstrated in the success of the E. R. Parker System.

This great institution, with the aid of modern business methods and economies, now permits the highest type of dentistry at prices within reach of all. In twenty-six cities throughout the West skilled Dentists and nurses, operating in immaculate offices, now use this system. They afford complete and satisfactory dental service, and in the minimum time consistent with first class workmanship.

This service is rendered in Los Angeles by two groups of registered dentists and qualified nurses using the
